

To The FCC:I have been a sattelite radio subscriber for nearly two years. I understand that there has been legislation introduced to stifle the growth of service over this tremendous new product by limiting what they can broadcast to their customers.

This is not only wrong but also anti free enterprise for the National Association of Broadcaster's to try and block a new innovative service like satellite radio, XM in particular. If they want to compete let them come forward with their own product and I, the consumer, will decide! That's the way it's done here in the USA.

Sincerely,

Gary Madden